SPORTS
Here 'n There

BY KARL R. McELROY
Sports Editor, The Star

Up from the cup of victory is the delightful experience that is enjoyed by Shelby basketball team in leading the North Ohio basketball league with wins and indications today of a clean record for the champion.

Shelby joined the N. C. O. basketball league last night. Its record is football—and how it played football. After entering the league football was forced to give up its glory with basketball along but always finishing second division.

Shelby promises to win the N. C. O. title, the first in the history of the school. Coach Paul Curran has built up a combination of players around Shelby that has been talked from no one in the league. This inspired aggression has been the key to the team's success. It will be the decisive game of the season for Shelby and Black.

Shelby fans want good basketball.

There is the question officials of the N. C. O. are attempting to answer. They are trying to find a ready solution to the problem they are putting the problem up to the fans themselves.

Thursday night the Shelby gang of players will take on the Akron team at the company gym. The Akronites rank as the outstanding team of the state basketball league of great hardcourt stars. Their appearance in most any game would mean a packed gym.

That's the way officials of the N. C. O. feel about it. So the fans are being put to the test. The Akronites break even or makes a little money on the contest, even greater sums will be brought to the local bank before the season closes.

Let's turn out for Thursday's battle.

THERE'S at least one sport fan in Marion county who is dissatisfied with the way the County High School league are being run this year. Here's his letter received this week:

REYNOLDS WINS IN STRAIGHT FALL

WELTER KING DOWNS
HINO 2 TIMES WITH TOP BODY SCISSORS

Pat McCarty Is Defeated by Clete Kauffman in Semi-Final

P. Basanta Singh ever had pay for his victory in the semi-final of the welterweight championship of the world after meeting Jack Reynolds, the king of that division, in the main event of the Stearns gym last night.

Like a cat playing with a mouse, Reynolds played around with the dark-skinned Hino. Then he carried out his victory in straight falls in 27 minutes.

That Marion fans like their tough stuff was indicated after the match. Most of them couldn't figure how Reynolds rated the welterweight title.

The answer is given in one word—smarts. The champion is never aggressive and is continually on the defensive until ready to take his man for a fall. That's the way it happened last night.

Smith took the role of the aggressor throughout. He carried the matter to Reynolds but was seldom able to place the champion in a dangerous position. Twice in the first fall he had Reynolds' shoulders nearly on the mat but the fox slipped free.

After Singh had worn himself out attempting to flop the champion on his back, Reynolds displayed some fast work to pin the Hino. The first fall came in 23 minutes with Reynolds using a top body scissors, the match ended through the same hold after but four minutes in the ring.

Clete Kauffman and Irish Pat McCarty staged the most exciting match of the evening. Clete won in 20 minutes with a series of slams and a headlock.

McCarty looked the best at anytime he has appeared on the local card. He combined speed with his showmanship and again had the fans going. Kauffman was too smart for him however, and after taking a great deal of punishment finished the match in an exciting fashion.

Blue Flanagan, the local heavyweight, looked mighty good when he drew with Wayne Stahl, the big Mansfield steel worker, after 15 minutes in their preliminary bout. Flanagan was outwitted around 50 pounds by the Mansfield mount.

Reynolds and Pedigo To Meet at Capital Tonight

COLUMBUS, Feb. 12.—"Blacksmith" Pedigo, who really is a snail, will tangle with Jack Reynolds, the welterweight wrestling champion of the world, here tonight, in a return battle. The affair will be a two-out-of-three-falls match.

Pedigo planned the champion to the mat within 15 minutes in their first match here several weeks ago. The bout was a non-title affair and Reynolds retained his crown.

Frank Wolfe, the Australian flash, who made his debut here a few weeks ago, will tangle with Railroad Route in a semi-final bout.

English Writer Sees Carnera as Future Champion

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Jack Sharkey may win the heavyweight championship of the world in June but he will hold the title no longer than the moment that he and the "heavy" bludge, Primo Carnera, enter the same ring on the same evening and in the same prize fight. This, it seems, goes too far for Max Baer, the champion of the world, who is only a few days away from his fight with Phil Scott. There are excellent chances, so to speak, but they merely are minding the heavy-weight championship while Primo is out of town making Baerum look like a fool.

Thorpe Wignall, the English writer who probably knows more of the four men in question than any authority in America, and Europe, arrived in New York today to make this assertion and others equally startling. For one thing, he said he had taken 2 to 1 that Scott would beat Sharkey if Phil came up for the sixth round and that all England was betting the same way. For another, he declared that Carnera would keep the heavyweight title until death did them part.

"He's unbeatable," said the Englishman, "and some that he is only 22 and improving all the time. I believe he will stay that way. I say this because there never was another man like him and because I am assuming that there never will be another. His strength, his speed, his punch, his size combine to make him a man safer from all others. He's just no use. He is going to win the heavyweight championship and all."

Wignall's knockdown of the Sharkeys, Schmiedings and Scotts in the world isn't after the fact.

Wignall has seen all the big fights in America during the last 12 years and knows Sharkey as well as anybody. He knows Scott as well that he admits Phil's prowess was out of another tough spot the night on Ted Sandwink. He saw Schmieding rise from obscurity to prominence and was eating heavily from a neutral corner when Carnera and Stirling and their two brainiacs in London and Paris.

Was Stirling's knockdown of the "beast" really real punch? It was so real, it seemed, that the same punch would have knocked Sharkey and Scott stiffer than a tin of soap.

"It was a terrible punch that ought Carnera on the point of the jaw and he fell so hard that I thought for a moment that the building was going with him," said Wignall. "He got up after a short count, whereas you could have counted the seconds around over any other man in the world. The punch didn't even damage him. All it did was to make him mad and he was something to come to look upon as he tore at Stirling like a wild man."

"No, no. There's not a bit of exaggerating about the thing. The man has everything and we might as well accept this fact now, as later. Few men going to be the big man in prize fighting for a long time."

To which I feel prompted to add that, personally, I believe he will be around until some earnest person hits him rudely in the pocket.

Club Officials Look for Missing Men To Come to Terms

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The New York Giants today were still short seven players, although club officials claimed none of the holdouts were "determined" and their signed contracts were expected this week.

Freddie Leach, outfielder obtained in the trade last year sending Frank O'Rourke to the Phillies, has signed a giant contract and Frank McCullough, established three years ago, had been made eligible by Commissioner Landis, it was announced.

McCullough, out of baseball two years and reinstated on application, formerly played second base on a contract with the New York Yankees.

Reynold initiated the tactics of Sharkey and gave Phil a good workout, extending him some in one round.

Sharkey continued boxing yesterday and worked on Pierre Charles, Moise Baugillier and Johnny Greeno. He took on the three American amateurs for only one round each but worked hard on a heavy left in addition.

Krute Roelke, noted Notre Dame football coach, was scheduled to visit Sharkey's camp today.

BISHOPS TIE CINCY
FOR BUCKEYE LEAD

Conference Race Expected To End in Two-Way Tie;
Wesleyan Defeats Ohio U., 43 to 32

COLUMBUS, Feb. 12.—Ohio Wesleyan university, last stepped into a tie with Cincinnati for first place in the Buckeye Athletic association basketball race today, following its decisive defeat over the Ohio university Defiants last night.

Battling Bishops proved themselves worthy of the moniker and trounced the Athenians by a 43-32 score.

Last night's victory placed Wesleyan on even terms with its most bitter rival, with each team having two victories and one defeat. Wesleyan's first step toward the tie and possibly the Buckeye championship came last Saturday when the Bishops defeated the crippled Defiants.

The Bishops from Defiance, showed considerable strength in last night's performance and played near-perfect basketball throughout the contest. They held the lead most of the game, and lost a 17-10 advantage at the end of the first half.

Bally in Last Period
Ohio staged a come-back in the last period and came within one point of tying the score. Seigenthaler, who had previously been unable to score, started on a rampage at this point and netted 10 points before he was forced out of the game on fouls.

Chuck Kasper, the brilliant Ohio forward, took the individual scoring honors for the evening with 14 points. He dropped two field goals and three free throws.

The Bishops are expected to tangle with Miami Saturday at Oxford, and judging from past performances, Wesleyan will add another victory to its list and take sole possession of first place. Since Cincinnati is due this week except for a non-conference tilt with Wittenberg, Cincinnati may again tie the Bishops for first place by winning from Ohio. Then Wesleyan can step one game ahead by defeating Defiance and Cincinnati can make it a four tie for the championship by defeating Miami in their second game next week.

BURNING QUALITIES OF TOBACCO SOUGHT

Experiment Station Finds Excess Rain Soon to Cigar Plant

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 12—Why should some cigars hold the fire better than others?

This is a question which smokers have often asked, and which scientists of the Connecticut agricultural experiment station have made a subject of investigation for the purpose of finding an answer.

The reason that some cigars will remain lighted for an indefinite time, even while resting on a tray, while others require a box of matches to keep them burning, is that the "burners" had an abundance of rainfall during the summer the tobacco grew, giving it a certain chemical property.

Leaf dealers and manufacturers long have known that crops of certain years do not burn well, while those of other years are distinguished for their excellent burning qualities. Also it was realized that the fire holding capacity showed a definite relation to the rainfall. In a dry year the burn was poor; in a wet year, it was good. When the Connecticut scientists wanted to know.

Dr. P. J. Anderson, head of the tobacco subsection at Windsor, and Dr. E. M. Bailey, head of the analytical chemistry department, cooperated in a study of the contrasting poor burning crop of 1921 when the rainfall was scanty, and the good burning crop of 1927, when the rainfall was generous. Analysis of the leaves showed certain chemical differences in the composition of the leaves, which in turn is dependent on the action of the water in the soil.

Continued rain washes fertilizer from the upper soil. Some of the plant nutrients, such as potash, remain near the top and are not absorbed by the roots. Other nutrients more readily drain away and the plant loses them. Nitrogen, which is harmful to the burn of tobacco, is one of them.

Tests showed that the tobacco grown in a wet year contained, among other constituents, a high measure of potash, and that the nitrogen was present in an unusually small amount.

Take things as they come, cheerfully; it requires greater cheerfulness to see them go.

Indian Country To Plant Many Trees

HAMMOND, Ind.—A number of equivalent to ten per cent of all the trees planted in the United States last year will be planted in Lake County, Indiana, this spring through the efforts of Frank S. Betz, retired Hammond capitalist, who is devoting his time, money and efforts toward furthering a reforestation program throughout the country.

Betz has induced five bank presidents in Hammond, Gary, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor, and Whiting to cooperate with him in distributing 6,225,000 Evergreen tree seeds to the public and preschool school children of Lake county on Arbor Day, April 15.

The scope of this enterprise is indicated in the fact that only 68,000,000 trees were planted throughout the country last year.

Girls Called Better "Office Boys" Than Boys

KANSAS CITY—Do girls make better office "boys" than boys? The Fidelity National Bank & Trust Co. here likes to vote yes and submits 2 years of running the bank with feminine office "boys."

The bank started using girls for pages and messengers in the war period and found them so competent it never has returned to boys.

Many of the girls have been promoted to responsible positions in the bank and their places filled by younger girls.

According to Douglas Wallace, assistant vice president of the company, boys spend too much time playing on the job.

Stockholm Restaurants Are Ready for Tourists

STOCKHOLM—The "Three Peaks" and "Hammerby" hotels, two of Stockholm's oldest restaurants, the first dating from 1865 or perhaps even further back, and the second at least from 1881, are being renovated for the coming Stockholm exhibition of decorative arts next summer.

Together with "The Golden Pheasant" (The Golden Pheasant), the old wine cellar back of the royal palace in which the 15th century poet, Carl Michael Bellman, used to improve his drinking songs, they are the most venerable of the city's many eating places and frequented by Americans and other foreigners.

"Den Gyllene Fredon" was rehabilitated some years ago by the Swedish artist, Anders Zorn and the income donated to the Swedish Academy which annually awards the Nobel Prize in Literature. Ballad singers still appear there informally.

9 Held as Ringleaders in Riot of Unemployed

1,500 Clevelanders Battle 20 Police and Are Subdued Only When Fire Trucks Are Called and Rioters Are Threatened with Hose

CLEVELAND, Feb. 12—Nine men, including one 19-year-old youth, were under arrest here today as the ringleaders of the Tatterdemalion legion of 1,500 unemployed rioting communists who battled 20 policemen in a wild melee of slashing knives, swinging nightsticks and flying fists on the steps of city hall late yesterday while attempting to storm the council chamber to demand work.

Three policemen were injured, seriously, in the riot which paralleled the recent communistic riots in New York and Milwaukee. Several more had been recruited by fiery oratory in Public Square. A meeting of the city council committee on public welfare with representatives of the council of unemployed was under way at the time.

Nearly 500 of the Tatterdemalion legion was admitted to the floor of the council chamber. Those who were left outside set up a disturbance and it was when police attempted to quiet the mob and to clear the streets and sidewalks, that a half dozen men leaped at the handful of police. Immediately the mob grew wild and turned the scene into a furious melee.

Call on Fire Trucks
Police reinforcements attempted to aid in quelling the riot, but the large numbers of the jobless army proved too much for the handful of police. It was only when two fire trucks hurried up to the scene and threatened to give the maddened mob a ducking that the army of jobless retreated.

After the riot had subsided to some extent the council conference resumed its deliberations. A motion was unanimously adopted by the council committee to call upon the citizens of Cleveland to give food and clothing for the destitute jobless.

FORMANCE OF "MYSTERY EIGHT" ASTONISHING

CHRYSLER MOTORS PRODUCT

THIS IS THE NEW STRAIGHT 8 THAT STARTLED THE INDUSTRY

THE LOWEST-PRICED EIGHT IN THE WORLD

Weeks ago, leading newspapers were informed of a mysterious new eight-cylinder car which was performing almost incredible feats on the great natural proving ground in the steep mountains of Pennsylvania.

Out of curiosity, and sensing a news story, automobile editors hurried to the mountains to investigate. There they joined in actual driving tests under conditions of their own selection. They saw and experienced feats of performance that set them writing columns of praise about a new motor car whose very name was still a secret. Now is revealed the name of that mysterious car—the car they proclaimed a sensation. It is the new Chrysler-built De Soto Straight Eight—the lowest priced Eight in the world—a car that comes before the public on the wings of a nationwide chorus of expert approval and commendation.

On the basis of overwhelming dollar value, the new De Soto Straight Eight, beyond all doubt, is as outstanding in the eight-cylinder field as its famous companion car, the De Soto Six, is outstanding in the field of sixes. Every comparison unalterably verifies this fact.

YOUNG GIRL SOBS 64 HOURS; FEAR IS FELT

Physicians Unable To Determine Why Emotions Can't Be Controlled

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Feb. 12.—Sixty-four hours of sobbing, with brief spells of natural crying, and Miss Violet Michael, 18, was giving physicians and relatives serious concern today.

The girl, who had always been healthy and normal, first showed emotion at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening when her mother left for a trip to New Bedford, Mass. The girl's mother returned from New Bedford yesterday but Miss Michael could not by her own will stop sobbing.

By the use of other administered by her physician, Miss Michael was able to get three and a half hours sleep after she had sobbed 18 continuous hours but resumed sobbing as the other girls left.

While the life of Miss Michael was not considered in danger as yet, continuation of the sobbing might cause general weakness which might become serious, her physician said. No effort was planned to etherize the patient into a comatose state, it was declared. Curious persons were not allowed entrance to the house where Miss Michael is living.

DEMOCRAT WINS IN COOLIDGE DISTRICT

First of Party To Go to Congress from There in 40 Years

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 12.—The historic second district, home of Calvin Coolidge and noted as a Republican stronghold, today had a Democratic victory, today and Sunday, by electing William J. Grandfield, Democrat, and vest to Congress.

Grandfield succeeds to the seat once vacant by the death of Representative Keyes in an airplane accident.

He is the first Democrat elected to Congress from the second district since its formation 40 years ago.

Grandfield carried over 50,000 votes in the district, which had never before been Democratic.

Unemployment and general business depression was believed to have been the major factors in the Democratic victory.

Prohibition also was thought to have played an important part in the upset. Grandfield is an emphatic wet while his Republican opponent, Frederick D. Griggs said he was personally a dry but would vote for repeal of the Volstead act if it came up in Congress.

Two Sons and Wife Are Wounded; Father To Die

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—George Hinchey, 43, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife, Katherine, here today, slashed his own throat with a razor and slashed the wrists of his two sons, Peter, 15, and George, 9, according to police.

At a hospital, physicians said the father and mother would probably die. The reason for Hinchey's actions, police said, was despondency because he was out of work.

LIEUT. H. H. HUNTER

AIR SCHOOL PILOT LEAVING MARION

Lieut. Hunter Going to Indianapolis; Offered Two New Positions

Lieut. H. H. Hunter, for the last six months chief pilot at Marion airport and instructor in the Marion School of Aviation, has severed his connections with local flying interests and is leaving Marion this afternoon to make his temporary home in Indianapolis. Hunter this morning announced his intention to leave.

For the present at least, his leaving means the cessation of all flying activity at Marion airport, and suspension of activities of the Marion School of Aviation.

Hunter is now considering two offers, one with the Shell Oil Co. at St. Louis, as pilot of a Shell plane, and another from Pan American Airways, as pilot of a passenger ship.

Ten students in the Marion School of Aviation will be unable to finish their courses under Hunter, he announced today. Little flying has been done during the last few months, due to adverse weather conditions and the condition of the flying field, he said.

Two local men became pilots under Hunter's instruction since he came to Marion six months ago, then as test pilot for the Marion Aircraft Corporation, which suspended activities after building one ship.

Two ships used by the Marion School of Aviation, a Triplane and an Argo, are being housed in the hangar at the Marion airport. According to reports this morning, there is a possibility that the school will reopen this spring when weather conditions are more suitable, and there is also some talk of organizing a flying club here.

WHOLESALE EXODUS OF HOODLUMS IS ON

Chicago's Unrelenting Drive on Gunmen and Gangsters Bears Fruit

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Outraged Chicago's unrelenting drive on gunmen and gangsters began to bear fruit today with definite reports from the underworld that wholesale exodus of hoodlums was in progress.

Unpaid policemen, continuing their raids on gang houses, reported that the wholesale arrests and grand jury indictments against gun-toters is driving criminals from the city. Reports of mounting crime from neighboring cities bear out the effectiveness of the campaign.

The grand jury brought true bills against 16 gangsters yesterday for gun-running, and under the rigid new code conviction on this charge will mean permanent sentence.

Col. Robert Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce, intimated that his committee formed to end the reign of murder will ask the Illinois legislature for a new set of drastic laws which will aid Chicago in its fight against the criminals.

One suggestion said to be under consideration would provide for national criminal law such as the Baume and Mercier law which is being used in its drive against crime.

CLOSE UP ALLEYS!

Michigan Man Says That's Way To End Chicago's Crime Wave

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—A simple method to end Chicago's crime wave today had been advocated by Dr. E. H. Collier of Battle Creek, Mich., who forwarded his opinion to the city council here.

"I read every day that your criminals escape by running down alleys," wrote the eminent Dr. Collier. "Why not padlock your alleys?"

This excellent idea cannot be carried out at this time, Alderman John Coughlin explained, because the city is too broke to buy the padlocks.

CLIFTON ASKS FOR SCHOOL BUS SURVEY

State Director of Education Feels Serious Problem Before Ohio

COLUMBUS, Feb. 12.—With the centennial of Lincoln's birth, Ohio today was in receipt of a plan from John L. Clifton, state director of education, for cooperation in making a thorough statewide survey of the school bus situation.

"I feel sure that you will appreciate, as I do, the serious situation that confronts us in this matter," Clifton declared. "We have had a hard fight to control the rural schools in their present status and the matter of transportation has become one of the high points of the opposition. Already the fees of centralization are pointing to various features of the school bus situation as justification of their opposition. The challenge is squarely up to you and me to clarify the situation or to accept the challenge."

"I believe that boards of education, if they have been careless or delinquent, in any particular will be quick to bring their transportation facilities up to standard when they have a standard to work toward. With this thought in mind, I am submitting this general survey. My sincere desire is to cooperate with local boards in perfecting school bus operations."

Mrs. Coolidge Popular With Villagers as She Enjoys Vacation With Husband

Former First Lady of Land Is Extremely Democratic, Writer Says

AT DORA, Fla., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Coolidge, who is vacationing with her husband at Lakeside Inn, on the shore of beautiful Lake Dora, in central Florida, is as popular in this little village as she is back home in Northampton, Mass. Every one here, and particularly the women, say she is "just wonderful." When they asked her to dedicate the beautiful cypress tree at the country building, she was glad to do so. Her willingness, her gentleness, her smile for all—rich and poor—compared her to the villagers. Look at her, as she sits in the lounge of the Lakeside Inn, she is the center of an interested and animated group. She is extremely democratic and free, not knowing her, would say that only a short time back she was the first lady of the land.

She likes folks and folks like her. It is a common sight to see Mrs. Coolidge, alone, strolling along the streets or doing a little shopping. The other day she went into a grocery store which happened to be crowded. Not waiting on for some time, she strolled out. Someone commented that an employee rushed out with an expression of how busy they were, but she only smiled. She hadn't minded it a bit.

Mrs. Coolidge has a real sense of humor, as evidenced by a story they tell here. The other day, accompanied by a woman friend or two, she went to Daytona. A girl reporter managed to catch up with her but wasn't sure she had the right party.

"You look a great deal like Mrs. Coolidge," the girl reporter said.

"Yes, I've been taken for Mrs. Coolidge a number of times," Mrs. Coolidge replied with a discerning smile.

The girl reporter departed, somewhat surprised.

Mrs. Coolidge prefers to remain out of the limelight. On the occasion when she dedicated the cypress tree she willingly posed for a picture, but it was more for "the good of the cause" than by inclination. Like her illustrious husband, she is very modest.

Mrs. Coolidge, too, is often seen in the village. Hardly a day passes that he does not take a long hike through the streets by himself. He goes to the village who recognize him and occasionally stops to speak.

The village barber cut the hair of his life the other day when Mr. Coolidge came in for a hair cut.

"A fine, quiet gentleman," was the barber's verdict. "Very little to say, just said: 'Not too much of the back'."

OLD PILGRIMAGE IS SET FOR JULY 10-24

Cathedral Houses Four Most Sacred Relics of Catholic Church

AACHEN, Feb. 12.—The traditional pilgrimage to Aachen, whose venerable Cathedral contains four of the most sacred relics of the Roman Catholic Church will take place again from July 10 to 24.

Formerly these pilgrimages were held every seven years, but the war interrupted them, and since then only one extraordinary pilgrimage was held in 1925.

They were first instituted by Charlemagne, who was crowned in the Aachen Cathedral in 800, and in the fourteenth century the custom of holding them every seventh year began.

In the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries only Rome, San Iago di Compostella and Jerusalem could boast such a great number of pilgrims. They came in such numbers in Germany, Austria, Bohemia and Hungary that special laws and hospitals were erected along the main routes to care for them.

In 1874 more than 60,000 pilgrims came on each of two successive Sundays, and 1881 more than 138,000 were recorded on three Sundays.

The fact that Aachen has finally been liberated from occupation by foreign troops after more than ten years is expected to bring a great number of visitors in July.

SAYS AVIATION NEEDS AID OF U. S. PUBLIC

Postmaster General Brown Outlines History of Flying in Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Emphasizing the need of enthusiastic public sentiment in favor of the progress of aviation in this country, Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, today made an earnest plea for public support of commercial aviation and its aid.

"The situation in which the air transport industry finds itself may properly occasion the deepest concern if that industry should collapse because of lack of public support for the passenger lines, the millions which the government has contributed to encourage commercial aviation, as well as a large part of the public investment in the aviation industry, will be lost."

Way to Get At A Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets. Remember this when you catch cold: if your bowels are bad, tongue coated, or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so luxuriously and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?—Adv.

FIX BLAME FOR FIRE THAT WRECKED SHIP

Spontaneous Combustion Causes Blasts That Kill Two Men

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The crew of the German liner Muenchen, which had just steamed from Bremen, today was only a few miles from New York when a fire broke out.

Fire which boiled through the hold of the vessel shortly after the 26th passengers were safely ashore was attributed today to spontaneous combustion. The cause of the fire, which killed two men, was not known.

Four explosions followed the flames. They ripped holes in the heat-insulated sides of the liner and sank her head to the mud of the Hudson river alongside the pier.

A fireman and a member of the crew were killed. A dozen persons, mostly women, were injured. John Harvey, pilot of the fireboat "Thomas" Willett, was killed as he boarded from his craft, from the force of one of the thundering explosions. He sank upon the pier, his body was recovered hours later.

Gustav Franke, electrician of the Muenchen, was believed to have lost his life in the line of duty. He was last seen at the power control box shortly before the first explosion.

After almost 24 hours of battling the flames, firemen today announced they had the fire under control. It was feared previously that further explosions might occur or that the liner might totter over on the adjoining pier.

Damage was estimated at from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000.

Bellhops, waiters and alleged bootleggers in date have been arrested, guests not being disturbed.

7,000 Canaries Die in Hold of Ship; 500 Live

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The song was over for 7,000 canaries imprisoned in the fire-ravaged hold of the liner Muenchen—but 500 others will live to sing about it.

As the fire was put out in the vessel today after a 24-hour battle, the crew descended into the hold and brought the 500 tough ones into the air. They were alive and chirping.

RESTAURANT DAMAGED

COLUMBUS, Feb. 12.—Fire, which is believed to have been caused by a defective fan, today caused $20,000 damage to the Rose Marie Shoppe, popular restaurant near the campus of Ohio State university here. The inside of the restaurant was seriously damaged.

The striking prominence of Italy Valor in radio programs wouldn't be so regrettable
were Italy able to sing.

It's hard to credit the wire from San Francisco stating that Maurice Chevalier is considered to be dead there by an attack of influenza. Influenza in the glorious climate of California! Impossible!

We do not know that such is his purpose,
but if Senator Norris has a longing to be known as a common scold, he should take pleasure in the thought that the attainment
of his desire is near at hand.

From Riga comes the announcement that the soviet national council had decreed eleven meatless days more each month in Russia.
This should please the vegetarians. If there are any over there, but it isn't making much of a noise like liberty of action.

As a result of the running in of 917 gunmen and hoodlums in a day's clean-up in Chicago recently, the authorities up there
state that they believe they have secured sufficient evidence to bring about the indiction of fifteen of the 917 for gun-toting.
Either the clean-up was something little better than "show stuff" or there is need for different authorities up there.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, listed as a dry, urges the senate to investigate the "complete breakdown" of prohibition enforcement. The urge would be somewhat more effective were it not for a feeling in some quarters that Burton would be willing to urge almost anything were he able to see an impelling volume of publicity out of it.

While it may be true, as claimed by both the New York police and the striking garment workers that the two riots in one of which a wealthy manufacturer was killed and a number of persons were injured were started by so-called "reds," the strikers can not wholly escape blame. They made the conditions which made the riots possible.

From Berlin comes the announcement that a citizen there has invented a "fool-proof" plane, which refuses to tip over or go into a tail spin no matter what the effort of its pilot to make it do either. In the light of recent crashes, planes of that type can not too quickly be adopted by all passenger transport services.

The house has approved an appropriation of $5,390,000 to send 5,323 gold star mothers to Europe to visit the graves of their lost ones. It's a fairly safe guess that this is one appropriation which even the most pronounced critics of governmental expenditures will see fit to overlook.

As Mr. Shakespeare held out there's little in a name. The disclosure that a Chicago business man was still in the gold mine of Death Valley Scotty" reveals the fact that the friendship of the two began when the former went to Death valley to regain his health, and if it's the health resort he holds to be it should be rechristened "The Valley of Life."

New York Plans New Pistol Law.

The state of New York is considering the repealing of her Sullivan law, which makes the ownership of a one-hand gun a felony unless the owner of the gun has a license to possess it, and substituting therefor a still more stringent law, which will prohibit the carrying of a revolver or pistol by even law enforcement people, such as sheriffs, detectives and policemen, unless the one carrying it is licensed and the gun is worn in a holster which is to be worn in plain view with the butt of the weapon showing.

There's a lot of sound sense in a law which will compel police officers, patrolmen, detectives and other law-enforcement agents to carry their pistols where they are of easy access and may be easily and quickly drawn.
Such a law would put them on something like an equality with the gunmen and other criminals with their guns in hand ready for use, and it may be the course of wisdom,
as provided in the proposed law, to do away
with licenses permitting the carrying of guns
by civilians, particularly so since much carelessness has been shown in issuing such licenses, for in the hands of one not expert in handling it, a gun may prove much more of a liability than an asset. The one carrying it may accidentally shoot himself with it, and it is conceivable that an attempt to draw
it in defense against a bandit or gunman might prove an invitation to death, which otherwise might be escaped.

But that the proposal, if enacted into a law, will lessen the number of guns carried by criminals, as is held out by those behind it, is open to question. It can hardly prove more effective in that respect than the present
New York law, which doesn't appear to have scared criminals from the practice of going armed. Despite the Sullivan law, they are carrying and using guns.

The Greatness of Lincoln.

We of America do not render tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln today because of the fact that he as our civil war chief executive was a towering figure in preserving to us a land undivided, although that fact would serve to keep him green in our memory, nor is it the fact that he was one of our three martyr presidents which has caused the anniversary of his birth to be singled out for expression of reverence beyond the ordinary. His mind was keen, but we have had many men of keen minds. He was an orator, whose oratory was powerful because of its simplicity and sincerity, and some of his addresses are recognized the world over, today, as classics. Yet we have had great orators whose oratory has failed to keep them in general thought. He was morally brave and fearless in the right, but there have been many Americans who have been morally brave and fearless in the right.
Beyond question, these facts, these qualities,
had their effect in moulding the popular conception of Abraham Lincoln, but they were not the chief, the inspiring ones.

No, the qualities of Lincoln which make him stand out in the minds of the millions of today as it did in the esteem of millions who have gone were the greatness of heart, the sublimity of soul, which caused him to sub-rogate self, his personal interests, his party's interest—all—to those of country, to make him the patriot he was.

It is a matter for profound regret that so many of those in our public life today possessing the potentialities of greatness lack the hearts and souls to emulate Lincoln and place the interests of the country above their own.

The three senators who were first named in showing opposition to the confirmation of the nomination of Charles E. Hughes as chief justice of the United States are George W.
Norris, of Nebraska; John J. Blaine, of Wisconsin; and Cole Blaine, of South Carolina.
All Blaine considered, Mr. Hughes may take that as quite a compliment.

The indictment by a federal grand jury of yeast and corn sugar makers as conspirators against the prohibition act will be worth following. It will be interesting to know how far the government can go into the prosecution of makers of ingredients which have many uses because they are also used in whisky making. Isn't there some danger that the hop raisers and corn growers may be put in jeopardy?

"Undies" and World Peace.

Miss Frances Perkins, industrial commissioner of the New York state department of labor, told the Chicago League of Women Voters, Saturday, that artificial silk underwear is a contributing factor toward world peace.

Miss Perkins explained that artificial silk
is made from gun cotton, which is the basis of many of our high explosives. The pulp which is spun into artificial silk, she went on to say, is made by the same process as charges for guns and cannon. Therefore, keep the munitions plants so busy manufacturing artificial silk that they won't have time to think in terms of cannon balls was her advice.

What simpler, in the light of this tip to the girls, than the maintenance of world peace? Naval reduction! Armament limitation! Why bother with them, when all the girls have to do to assure the blessing peace to a war-weary world is to wear more artificial silk "undies."

The preceding paragraph, it is no more than fair to this woman official of New York state to say, is not run as an outline of her utterance, but is given merely as our consideration of what might have been an extension of the talk she went all the way to Chicago to unload upon the women voters of that city.

Is it any wonder that tax burdens are heavy when jobholders are paid to chase about the country uttering stuff such as that of this New York industrial commissioner?

Mexico's reported action in searching the persons of the departing minister of Russia and his wife and the violation of the diplomatic seals on their luggage can not be justified by diplomatic usage, regardless of any scorn Russia may have shown for them.

Property valued at over $5,000 stolen from a Lake Forest, Illinois, home was recovered
following the arrest of five boys in North Chicago and a confession by the leader, who,
it develops was on probation for seventeen similar crimes committed last summer. It would be interesting to know how many serious crimes are necessary up in Cook county
to bar the paroling of criminals.

A twenty-eight-year-old resident of Muskegon, Michigan, under arrest charged with having shot and killed a twenty-year-old woman living apart from her husband, chopped her body up and buried the severed parts of it in a shallow grave, is reported to have said he killed her because he loved her, which,
we take it, will be enough to start the soldiers sobbing in his behalf. They can generally be depended to let loose whenever a crime is atrocious.

A London cable says that the nine surviving widows and thirteen children of Abdul Hamid, the sultan of Turkey deposed in 1909, have obtained after a legal battle of five years $50,000,000 of the $1,500,000,000 estate of the late sultan confiscated during the World war, and that there is hope of settling back $1,000,000,000 for them. Seemingly, Abdul Hamid paid even more attention to the gathering of riches than to the acquiring of wives.

One hundred and fifty-seven members of an alleged alcohol ring have been indicted for diverting to illicit distilleries annually approximately 1,000,000 gallons of alcohol, withdrawn for chemical purposes, over a five-year period and realizing therefrom a profit of $25,000,000. It's beginning to become evident that the fellows who "kick drink it or leave it alone" haven't been imbued with an overly-strong desire in recent years to leave it alone.

Winter "Shot-Ins."

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Winter sports are becoming more and more popular each season. Fashion favors them, society favors them, and so do the doctors.

If you are tired out after the white of the city, of business and social cares, why not try a change of scene? And winter sports? Nothing is more health-giving than a change of scene and some form of recreation which combines with it pleasure and the benefits of health.

What is more wonderful than a winter's day on the mountain sides, or in the woods? You may ski, or snow-shoe, for miles at a time through unbroken paths. With the snow, pure-white and deeper, perhaps, than your head, you see nature from a viewpoint that you can not see in any other way.

Such exercise plays upon every nerve and muscle of the body. Your senses are keener, the blood is circulated into new life, and with it new vigor comes. A often wonder that so many of us neglect these cure sports of the winter-time.

And after you return from the day's outing,
it may be that kindled souls have gotten there before you. A blazing log or two, a good supper, some drowsy bantering, and you are at bed! Sleep is good. Maybe it never was so good!

Skiing is a wonderful exercise. Everybody can have this sport without going far for it. In the cities, now, are the outdoor skating rinks, and where, for a small sum, the populace can skate in any, any day or evening. This has always been a fascinating sport, and in grandmother's time it was considered as much of an accomplishment to skate well as to dance well.

Never before, perhaps, have the outdoor sports
been more in evidence than this season. At St.
Moritz, Lake Placid, in Canada, or in some of the colleges and schools with their winter carnivals, people flock for healthful sports. All this gives an added impetus to sports everywhere.

Don't spend all your recreation-time in the close atmosphere of public places. Be out-of-doors for as much time as you possibly can.

Muscular exercise is important because it stirs up the chemical and biological changes of the body. If you wish muscular strength, you must exercise the muscles. If you want to have an active, vital mind, you must exercise that.

Nobody can have good health without proper exercise, fresh air and sunlight. Nutrition is of importance, too, but real bodily vigor depends upon all these things combined. Healthful recreation is of vital importance to this end.

Editorial Opinion.

THIS CRITICIZED NATION.

The critical propaganda directed against the American government and people continues to be voluminous and persistent. It may be of interest in this connection to realize that, in one respect at least, other sovereigns have also problems and faults which properly might be criticized and condemned.

It will be admitted, for example, that our own divorce situation is bad—very bad. But we do not stand alone in this respect. Our neighbor to the north concedes that it faces no more awkward problem than the question of what to do about divorce. So many petitions are now waiting the action of the Canadian parliament that their mass threatens to do to that body what the dissolution of prohibition has done to the American congress.

Catholic Quebec, for instance, does not look with kindly eye upon proposed "liberal" enlargement of facilities for the dissolution of the marriage tie.
The Premier King would like divorce taken out of parliament, but he doesn't dare make the proposition or undertake the reform. Unfortunately, for him, he is looked to by a way out. Ontario wants a divorce tribunal. Quebec says: "You shalt not." Result: the Quebec parliament most probably will continue to be cluttered up with divorce bills, and the general business of the nation suffer, as our own government clearly is suffering from a multiplicity of bills and discussion. There is hope, however, that all these problems in time may be solved to the satisfaction of governments and peoples. It is unlikeliest to admit that man's genius for government has, in any respect, permanently failed of its major purpose.

THE PRESIDENT IS RIGHT.

The president enjoys fishing. His special stream is now the Rapidan river, in Virginia.

A thoughtful legislator did the wrong thing.
To make it pleasant for President Hoover at all times, he put a bill in the Virginia legislature that would permit the president to fish in the Rapidan
through the year, open and closed seasons alike.

It was intended as a courtesy and a kindness.
It was a very little thing in itself, but the principle involved in giving any man special immunity
or privileges is wrong. Of course, President Hoover knew that, and has said that he doesn't
stand for anybody fishing out of season.

Such a law would be of a piece with one that would make the prohibition law apply to everybody in the United States, excepting the president.
Mr. Hoover saw that and quashed it.

Anyhow, it is likely that President Hoover's fishing is a good deal like that of former President Calvin Coolidge. Asked how the fishing was in the Black Hills country, Calvin drawled: "I did not catch a whole lot, but I intimidated a good many."

And that is almost as good as catching them.
A man gets more exercise on the golf course, if his score is 102, than he does if he makes a bogey in one. That's the way with presidential fishing.

FARM RELIEF IN OHIO.

Mr. Perry L. Gibson, Ohio's secretary of agriculture, has a peculiar idea of what constitutes farm relief. In a statement reviewing farm conditions in Ohio he says that "the next five years will see the largest mileage of roads built in the country districts of Ohio that have been built in the past fifteen years. When these roads are once built upon the county system, the maintenance of these roads becomes an obligation not alone upon the farmer himself, but upon all the taxpayers of the county. This system of financing the roads offers immediate farm relief."

It was a very little thing in itself, but the principle involved in giving any man special immunity
or privileges is wrong. Of course, President
Hoover knew that, and has said that he doesn't
stand for anybody fishing out of season.

Such a law would be of a piece with one that
would make the prohibition law apply to everybody in the United States, excepting the president.
Mr. Hoover saw that and quashed it.

World's Most Impressive Memorial.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

Today we are celebrating the birth of the great American emancipator, Abraham Lincoln. Throughout the world of this last century will be memorial services. Speeches will be made, statues decorated. They will be justified for Lincoln was unquestion-ably, as wonderful a man as this country has ever known.

And so it is gratifying to see, when we travel to Washington, the memorial which has been established there in his honor. The great temple was long in coming, but when finally it was opened, in 1922, seven years after its authorization by congress, it met the demands of those who cherished the name of Lincoln, and it measured up to the standards of the most severe critics.

The Lincoln memorial is set in a place
which is rapidly becoming beautifully landscaped and planted with shrubs and gardens.
From its slight elevation, it faces an artificial lagoon which serves as a mirror, reflecting the chaste simplicity of the Greek columns that lead up to the front colonnade.

This consists of thirty-six main columns and two additional columns in the entrance. The thirty-six represent the thirty-six states which comprised the union in the days of Lincoln.
One enters Memorial hall through an open entrance—there is no door. Directly facing the entrance is the heroic statue of Lincoln.
He is seated in an armchair which is on a dais against the rear wall.

The huge statue, measuring nineteen feet in height is a wonderful likeness of the civil war president. Daniel Chester French, the sculptor, caught the spirit of the benign, yet serious Lincoln. There is a trace of weariness on his face. He looks as though the affairs of his war torn nation were weighing heavily.

Directly in back of the statue are the words
"in this temple, as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the union the memory of Abraham Lincoln is enshrined forever."

On the two side walls are two of Lincoln's most famous orations. They are the Gettysburg address and his second inaugural address.

The whole beauty of the Lincoln memorial is founded on its huge proportions and utter simplicity. One feels, as he enters it, that he is standing in the presence of a mighty spirit. One doesn't feel as much awe as he does reverence. It is what a memorial to Lincoln ought to be, something which drives home to every visitor—the greatness of the man whose name it bears.

Dinner Stories.

The minister called at the Jones home one Sunday afternoon, and little Willie answered
the bell.

"Pa ain't home," he announced. "He went over to the golf club."

The minister's brow darkened, and Willie hastened to explain:

"Oh, he ain't gonna play any golf. Not on Sunday. He just went over for a few high-balls, and a little stud poker."

"When first we were married you were only too glad to wash up the dishes."

"I know; but we only had two dishes
then."

At the end of the outdoor scene the perspiring film director dropped exhausted on the grass.

As he mopped his forehead he looked around at the heap of "props" and saw a dummy of old clothes and straw.

"Hiccup!" he yelled, "who was it we threw over the cliff?"

Mother—"Come, Freddie, and kiss your Aunt Martha."

Freddie—"Why Ma, I ain't done nothin'!"

The young man was prematurely gray, and proud of it.

"Looks quite poetic, don't you think?" he asked the girl he had met at the beach.

"It does remind me of a certain poem,"
she said.

"And what is that?"

"When the Frost is on the Pumpkin"

Doctor—"Well, do you find that your memory is improving under treatment?"

Patient—"Not exactly, but I can frequently

Four Officials of County Enter Race for Election

Shelton, Thomas, McKeever and Shelton Make Formal Announcements of Candidacy; Others Expected To Follow Suit in Near Future

County officials will be candidates for re-election at the August election, according to statements made today.

Officials who will seek re-election are: Prosecuting Attorney Shelton, County Auditor Thomas, County Recorder McKeever, and County Sheriff J. Shelton.

It has been generally expected that these officials would announce their first public statements concerning their intentions today. Prosecuting Attorney Shelton and County Auditor Thomas are serving their first terms. McKeever is filling an unexpired term of the recorder's office by appointment. Treasurer Shelton was re-elected to the office at the last election after previously serving as county treasurer.

Judge William R. Martin, of the municipal court, was the first person now talking office to announce his candidacy for re-election. Judge Martin announced several days ago that he would be a candidate to succeed himself. He is now serving his first term in the office.

No Statements from Four

Announcements by Judge Martin, Auditor Thomas, Prosecutor Shelton, and Recorder McKeever that they will be candidates to succeed themselves leaves four officials now in office who have not yet declared their position in regard to seeking reelection. At least they have made no public statement regarding their plans.

They are Sheriff John J. Francis, Congressman Grant E. Mouser, Jr., State Representative Horace Cookston and County Commissioner O. C. McKeever.

Curly. There appears to be but little doubt, however, that all of these will seek reelection.

All officials who will ask for re-election next November are Republicans. This results from the fact that all persons elected on partisan tickets for county offices two years ago were of the same party. The only Democrat to be placed in office in the county in 1934 was Judge George B. Seabold, of the common pleas court, and he was elected on a non-partisan ticket.

Present Lineup

As the political line-up now stands, Republicans are in the field for reelection to four offices, not including the municipal judgeship, which is non-partisan. These offices are prosecuting attorney, treasurer, auditor and recorder. At present, Donithen and Thomas are the only ones to line up for the offices they now hold. Mrs. McKeever, the recorder, and Shelton already have opposition.

Two Republicans, J. A. Wilkins and Bernard Stow, have declared their intentions of opposing Mrs. McKeever for the nomination at the primaries. Two Democrats, R. G. Smallwood and E. F. Tittlebaum, are already after the Democratic nomination for county treasurer at the primaries. Shelton, however, is still unopposed in the primary fight within his own party.

It is likely that Sheriff Francis will announce his intention of seeking reelection within a few days. A Democrat, A. A. Hugman, is already in the field and Theodore E. "Ted" Brumley will probably seek the Republican nomination in August.

An official of the fund has been using this car to solicit payment of pledges made during the drive last year, and to date $61,233.01 has been collected of the $74,862.22 pledged last year, according to Miss Mildred Lombard, secretary of the fund.

POSTOFFICE BUSY

Valentine Traffic Adds to Work of Clerks and Carriers

Sweethearts, wives—after you're married you're a wife and not included in the category of sweethearts, brothers, sisters, friends, and in a few cases, husbands, are being remembered each day with some kind of a valentine.

The postoffice is doing its usual valentine rush duty. Big ones, all lace and with yellow verses, little ones to school friends, and middle-sized ones for anyone in particular, all are being taken care of at the local distributing point for mail.

Some of them are elaborately decorated on the envelopes, and others are addressed just as ordinary mail is sent. And there's the kind that are without a doubt penny comic valentines, sent in transparent, cheap paper envelopes, with the flap stuck inside and a penny postage stamp to insure delivery to the unfortunate object of one's Valentine wishes.

Postoffice To Close on Washington's Birthday

The local postoffice was open today, and did not observe Lincoln's birthday, but Saturday, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, the office will be closed all day.

On that day, all windows at the postoffice will be closed and no deliveries will be made. No one will be on duty except in the case of special delivery letters or packages, which will be delivered as they come in.

Auto for Each Family Is Record for U. S.

WASHINGTON — There is an automobile for each family in the United States or, to be more exact, approximately one in every 4.5 persons, according to a survey made by the American Motorists Association.

The net increase in automobile registrations during the past twelve months was 1,255,000, and during the same period a total of 38,391 miles was added to the federal and state highway systems, the survey showed.

If all the automobiles in the nation should be placed on every available mile of highway there would be eight automobiles to every mile. This eliminated a question worrying the public—the problem of why in all this wide space of land, one always has to hunt parking space.

This Perfect Powder Base
Protects and Beautifies

TO try a powder base for protection's sake, and wish you hadn't for beauty's sake—that never happens when you use Plough's Vanishing Cream!

EASY TO USE The double function of an ideal foundation cream—protecting and beautifying—is convincingly accomplished by Plough's Vanishing Cream. You smooth on the merest bit—watch it vanish completely—then apply your make-up.

QUICK RESULTS—AND LASTING Instantly your mirror tells you that you look lovelier than before! Instantly you note your complexion's fineness of texture, satin-smoothness, youthful clearness. Later—hours after you leave your dressing-table—you are gratified to find that your make-up has adhered without caking or streaking and that your skin has retained its fresh, glowing beauty.

NO MORE CHAPPED DRY SKIN Outdoors you feel the protecting care of Plough's Vanishing Cream when sun and wind, dust and dirt, try their best to coarsen and darken your skin. Like a filmy, invisible veil, it guards against these complexion-enemies and cherishes the natural loveliness of your skin.

Today, before going out, apply Plough's Vanishing Cream, then Plough's Rouge and Face
